FAQ

1
Do I have to quit my personal training business?

No, you can continue training clients while building your FITKIDS empire at the same time. Once the income begins rolling in, you will have the choice to pull back from clients or start getting trainers underneath you to train your clients further increasing your passive income stream. FITKIDS will only benefit your personal training business. You will need to dedicate between 9am and 5pm, 5 days a week to getting your business started, so because most PT is in the mornings before 9am and in the evenings after 5pm, your PT work will not be affected.

2
What do you mean by Area Manager?

The successful applicant will be contracted to manage a set territory of FITKIDS Australia clients and trainers. They will earn a set percentage of ALL profit in their area, plus bonuses. They will be working one on one with the two trainers that started the company and created the protocols you will be following. We believe this is the best business model available and allows for maximum financial incentive and team growth at the same time. Your success is our success and the only thing we know how to do is succeed.
